

CALENDAR

Of the Prisoners in York Castle and Ousebridge Gaol, who are to take their Trials this Lent Assizes, (Monday, March, 19, 1792) before the Honourable Sir FRANCIS BULLER, Knt.

SIR THOMAS FRANKLAND, Bart. HIGH-SHERIFF.

ELIZABETH ELLIOT, for the wilful murder of Mary Walker, at Thornton Ruff, in the North-Riding.

John Dawson, of Thornton, for the wilful murder of Sarah his wife.

John Scholefield, and Miles Scholefield, Clothiers, for killing and slaying Miles Scholefield, of Saddleworth.

John Pymus, for stealing an Ass, the property of Joseph Waid, of Mansfield, Nottinghamshire.

Mary Read, for stealing a quantity of silk handkerchiefs out of Mr. John Riley's Shop, Linendraper in Sheffield.

George Eaton, William Brown, John Gregory, and John Hanson, for a highway Robbery near Doncaster.

George Pye, alias John Williams, for stealing nine Pies at Rotherham.

William Campbell, late of Kingston upon Hull, for forgery.

James Jackson, of Hutton Bushel, for stealing divers Articles out of the House of Thomas Hodgson.

William Freer, of the Township of Howden, for stealing a quantity of Goods out of Rob. Hembrough's House; at Newbold.

Matthew Little, for breaking into the Dwelling-house of John Parker, Esq; of Woodthorp, and stealing thereout a quantity of wearing Apparel, the property of Ralph Deakin, servant to the said John Parker, Esq.

Thomas Crawshaw, for a burglary in the Dwelling-house of John Wilson, of Thorpwilloby.

Ann Holmes, for stealing divers Articles, from Ann Sanderson, of Towthorpe.

Spence Broughton for robbing the Rotherham Mail.

Joseph Brearley, for breaking into the Dwelling house and Shop of Ann Booth, of Cleck-Heaton, and stealing divers Articles.

William Rhodes, for breaking into T. Wilkinson's Shop, and stealing two stone of Soap and a Sack.

John Pickles, for assaulting and robbing Angell Ceti (a foreigner) on the foot-way.

John Bulmer, for breaking into the house of Rob. Burnet, of Fawdington, and stealing a silver quart cup, a silver watch, &c.

George Robinson, for stealing 7 guineas in gold, and a silver watch out of a Sloop, in the River Ouse, the property of J. Fletcher.

William Bayley and James Bayley, for stealing 18 Sheep from W. Howarth, and 13 other Sheep from R. Moor.

Tho. Stearman, John Walker, and John Lucas, for breaking into Messrs. Mundels' Shop, Linendrapers, Malton.

James Lucas, (brother to the above John Lucas) for having in his possession the lining of the Pulpit-cloth stolen from Ripon Minster on May day last.

David Rogers, for picking J. Pollard's pocket of a black leather book, containing seven guineas in gold.

John Stansfield, for breaking open Mr. Thomas Walpole's Warehouse, in the West riding.

Prisoners in Ousebridge Gaol.

ROBERT JONES, of London, Lottery-office keeper, and Robert Adams of London, Coachman, for stealing a silver tankard, the property of Mr. Joseph Clayton, at the George Inn, Pavement, and a silver pint, the property of Mr. John Dyott, at the Cross-Keys in the Shambles.

William Thorlby, for bigamy.

Mary Wells, for privately stealing a piece of printed callico from Mr. Robson's Shop, High-Ousegate.

William Ellsworth, for stealing three pair of plated buckles, from Mr. Davies's Shop, in Spurriergate.

Samuel Cartwright, of Rufforth, for stealing a bay mare, the property of Ann Smouton, of Askham.

Mary Jennings, for stealing a silver watch from on board a vessel lying in the river Ouse, the property of Geo. Duffield.

Elizabeth Grimshaw, for receiving the same, knowing it to be stolen.

William Coates, for stealing a cornelian seal, set in gold, out of Mr. R. Clark's Shop and a gold enamelled pin out of the Shop, of Mr. Etherington.

James Butler, for obtaining divers articles under false pretences.